A charge that the Brownlee government in the last three years of office had only paid out of revenue 35 per cent of its $19,434,000 interest obligations, and had borrowed the other 65 per cent to meet the interest due, was the sensational statement made in the Legislature on Tuesday night by Mr. Harry Ross, newly-elected Liberal member for Calgary. The statement was not contradicted by the Premier or Provincial Treasurer.

GOLDEN LOAD TURNS CEMENT

LONDON, March 7.—A modern miracle—no less than the conversion of gold into cement—was discovered at a London bank today.

Bank attendants opened a box which contained 500 fine ounces of gold worth $23,300 when it left Cape Town, South Africa, Feb. 16. The box itself weighed 395 lb. The gold was packed in 200 small boxes but its value had dropped to $238—figuring the box itself worth $238. The box contained cement.

The box was locked in a strong room unopened by the bank. Police had watched it constantly since it arrived at Southampton Monday to be transported by train to London.

"WHERE THERE IS A WILL"

London reports that Britain's industrial recovery still "wings ahead." The pace slowed down toward the end of the year, but figures for February show a definite upswing in all parts of the country, while all classes of industry show improvement over a year ago.

Increase in foreign trade brought about a shift of monetary policy, experts say. The industrial recovery in Britain, Canada and the United States has been the same results by the same means.

To say there are no more "black" markets open is only to say we have closed them against ourselves by a tariff policy both prohibitive and offensive. Britain's outlook two years ago for selling manufactured goods in tariff-walled markets was as black as the prospect is now for selling Canadian farm and other products abroad.

By negotiating trade agreements and telling the world to set its own value on the pound sterling, Britain would have brought about a world in which it had been barred. Canada can do the same wherever its parliament decides to tear down the barriers it has built against trade and invite other peoples to exchange their products for ours.

COARSE GRAINS

Hon. George Howley intimates that the Dominion Government is being asked to pay a bonus to farmers who grow coarse grains next summer on summerfallow land. This is one of the "black" farm production and cut down the wheat crop.

Forbidden to times like these the Dominion Government should be discouraged from paying the western farmer a bonus for anything. What ever he might get for raising oats or barley on his summer fallow would be small enough compensation for the part a "black" policy has played in destroying his export market for wheat.

But to make the scheme successful, without disastrous effects next fall, someone should tell the farmer what he is to do with the coarse grains he has been so graciously "rewarded." There is little or no export market for coarse grains. What is grown in the west must be burned here. Who is going to guarantee the farmer that the part a "black" policy has played in destroying his export market for wheat?

A government bonus to break the domestic market for coarse grains.

THE ONE WAY OUT

The slum clearance committee of Montreal went Premier Bennett's way and agreed to use $50,000,000 in pulling down 20,000 slum dwellings in that city and replacing them with sanitary houses and apartments.

The committee want the Dominion and the province of Quebec to guarantee the bonds, and to make the money obtainable at interest rates which will make the scheme on a practicable footing.

The west is not the only part of Canada that needs large scale construction of a practical nature. The west is not the only part of Canada that cannot proceed with the work unless the Dominion supplies the money, or makes it available at interest rates which will make the scheme on a practicable footing.

The largest city in Canada is in the same financial straits as a slum as large as any one of the western provinces could hope to obtain by the use of the public purse.

Dear money means a continuance of debt and preboggance. The Dominion Government has the power to free the interest rates on its loans, and to make available necessary funds in twenty-four hours.

Debt means the worship of dear money stands in the way.

NOT GOING BACK

"One thing is very certain: we are not going back, either to the old conditions or to the old money." That is the challenge of President Roosevelt to his critics and his rallying call to the people of the United States.

It is also a statement of fact. Not because the president would resist any attempt to restore the old conditions and methods, but because neither his nor anyone else could resist them if he tried. The awakened intelligence of the country forbids that, and would crush any government which sought to reimpose the old order of things.

For Canada, too, the hour has struck for a re-creating of our economic machinery, to the end that the country may evolve into a more modern and more efficient one.

As in the United States, the public here has been disillusioned in the agony of four years of tragedy. It is not that our Government does not seem to understand that. It is still chanting the charms of the financial wizard.

The notion that society must consist of a few millionaires at the top, a rabble of paupers at the bottom, and great middle classes in between, is dead. As dead as the notion that the nation could not exist unless it did business with an artificially restricted number of dollars each representing 25 grains of non-existent gold.

It is time for a re-creating of the objectives and methods of public policy. A wider distribution of the fruits of super-production; assurance to every industrious person of the opportunity to earn a living at all times; protection against want in old age; these are ideals which the powers of government will have to be directed to.

And for their accomplishment there will have to be a complete and drastic revision of our major policies in finance and trade, to the end that there may be a fair and constant distribution of buying power among all those who are willing to do their share in the nation's work.

The Regina council, which lately adopted the so-called single tax system of municipal assessment, has seen fit to abandon it without attempting to give it effect. However faulty it may be, the system of assessment is not less so than the principle upon which the ordinance was supposed to be based, that is to say the principle of the single tax.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COWPER

A reader sends in a clipping from this paper telling how a Chicago bank at Seattle had lost out of her mind under a persecution mania. After burning $15,000 in paper currency, she attempted suicide. The mania was cured by the benefit of the burning, or whether the bills will be replaced.

Some Symptoms Of Nephritis

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

After inflammatory changes begin in the kidney, the organs will start to secrete an accurate power of selecting poisons and will then begin to do its work backwards. It will throw out albumen which should be kept in the body and will keep in water and wastes such as urea, which should be thrown out.

The retained water may appear as dropsy or edema; at first it appears as a slight puffiness of the face, which may spread to the skin which may affect the feet and ankles or may show as a puffiness under the eyes.

At the start, the swelling may come on only toward morning, but later it may become more noticeable and the face may be stretched tight, has a pale glossy look, and if pressed with the fingers, a pit will remain. The amount of dropsy which occurs varies with different forms of nephritis and in fact, it may be absent altogether.

Some of the general symptoms of nephritis which may be noted are: indigestion, dizziness, headache, rapid pounding of the heart, a salty, muddy complexion, a feeling of weakness, and a gradual loss of the ability to see very well. The patient may undergo an intense itching of the skin.

Some of the changes found when the liquid waste from the kidneys of a patient with nephritis is tested by urinalysis is the presence of albumin, often in excessive amounts; which means that the kidney is not doing its work properly and instead of holding the albumin back, allows it to pass through. However, since albumin is followed by a mass of other things, its mere presence does not always prove that nephritis is the cause.

Suppose you have nephritis and your doctor has had you submit to a urinalysis test. You receive the report on your urinalysis, you probably find it in a quiet spot and try to keep it secret. The report may be something that the report mentions albumin and that this has been checked in red ink. SIDE GLANCES - By George Clark

A Day in Canadian History

THE BIRTHDAY OF HULL, QUEBEC

On this date, in 1840 there was founded on the north side of the Ottawa River, just below the raging waters of the Chaudiere a small town which was to become known as Hull. It was founded by a man named John Macdonald, who was a member of the House of Commons.

It was on March 7, 1890 that a terrible band of Loyalists headed by Phileas Fogg, set out on their first trip and had the first "amly" train in what was to become a great industrial center, labelled by some as the "match box" of the Dominion, since it was for years the greatest centre of match making in Canada.

Phileas Fogg was a native of Western, near Boston. He had heard of the chances of enterprising men in Canada and he came north first in 1796 to "try out the land." He made a most favorable good report of the country on the Grand River, as the Ottawa was then called.

Central Bank Mysteries

By R. T. ELLIOTT, K.C.

We shall have to go to some land beyond the skies in order to find another banking system like that of Canada. The Canadian banks have been given a practical monopoly of savings deposits, of commercial deposits, and of the issuance of bank notes in the strictest sense of ordinary business. Also they have had power to lend money to the Dominion, to the provinces, and to the municipalities.

Under this beneficent system an acute shortage of currency and credit has existed in trade circles for some time. The daily loss to the nation from drastically reduced commercial and construction undertakings runs into staggered millions of dollars.

In addition there is the irreparable national loss borne daily by the nation in respect to the serious breakdown of wage scales and salary standards. This may be calculated on an approximately correct basis as follows: Eight hundred thousand individuals unemployed at the present time, the national loss thereby aggregating one million six hundred thousand dollars per day; and two million five hundred thousand persons whose wages and salaries have been cut by an average of two dollars per year, or whose national wages have fallen in price by the percentage sufficient to equal two dollars per day through the year—the national loss thereby aggregating five million dollars per day.

These two daily amounts make an aggregate of six million six hundred thousand dollars per day of direct irreparable national loss. Striking out the six hundred thousand dollars, as a protection against over-stating the loss, and fixing the number of working days in the year at 240, there will be a yearly national loss of one billion four hundred and forty million dollars.

After lengthy consideration the Dominion Government comes forward with a Central Bank plan; to be owned by a private corporation with a capital of five million dollars; to be given redemptive function in the chartered banks; and to be given power to issue paper currency up to a maximum based on the gold holdings of the Central Bank.

As a remedy against the existing depression, this Central Bank will be almost as useful as a baby's rattle would be to drive off an aerial bombing attack.

There is immediate need of a working currency fund of not less than two billion dollars to bring back a completely normal measure of employment and thereby to restore commodity prices and real estate value.

The credit of the nation is fully equal to the par support of this amount; and the working assets of the nation are adequate in value and sufficiently diversified to put the whole amount to work not only without risk of loss, but with an absolute certainty that the present unemployment loss of six million dollars per day will be wiped out. Instead of national loss there will be national profit; and there will be work at adequate wages for every individual worker.

Four of five could not be invoked as a factor of caution, because the six million dollar loss is going on day by day. Only an adequate money supply to finance employment, production and industry will stop it.

The immediate obligation upon the Federal Government is to provide the money (making sinking fund provision for retirement), thereby end the depression, and thereafter decide what kind of a Central Bank is needed. It could all be done at the present session, because guarantee of an adequate currency supply will end the depression within thirty days. Everybody, including especially the banks, the farmers and the railways, would be back in the money again; and insurance companies and loan companies would have assets with immediate real values instead of potential values.

Cabinetiers To

DEFLATION—Portrait of two German prisoners taken at the Somme facing the fact that the German mark, for the time being, anyway, is badly deflated.

HIGH-TIDDLEY-IGHTY, CARRY ME OFF TO BLIGHTY!—Walking or carried on a stretcher to the field dressing station, then carried or walking back to the advanced dressing station, and from there by motor ambulance to the casualty clearing station, well behind the lines, the wounded soldier had a weary journey. But sooner or later, if his wounds were bad enough, he got onto a hospital train for the base hospitals down by the sea. And if he went from there to Blighty depended on whether his wounds were serious or not. Tens of thousands of men were patched up without ever seeing Blighty and were sent back up the line.

HISTORIC SCENE OF HIGHLANDERS' COUNTER - ATTACK—From this trench in Maple Cope the 14th Battalion, Royal Montreal Highlanders, jumped off on the morning of June 3, 1916, in the counter-attack to recover the ground captured by the Germans in the tragic battle of June 2nd, at Mount Sorrel and Sanctuary Wood. Boxes of ammunition, Lewis-gun pans, rockets and other equipment testify to the haste and fury of that engagement. The Royal Highlanders suffered terrible losses, only one lieutenant and a dozen men reaching the German trenches, from which they never returned.

CLOTH HALL—This picture of the tower of the Cloth Hall at Ypres was taken in July, 1916. It was more thoroughly ruined in the succeeding two years.

SONJA HENIE IS EN ROUTE TO TORONTO SKATE MEET

NEW YORK, March 7.—One of the greatest women titleholders in all the history of sport, gold medalist, 21-year-old Sonja Henie, arrived here Tuesday enroute for Toronto on what may be her final North American exhibition tour as a world figure skating champion. "For five years," said the Danish titleholder, "I have been smiling so widely a dimple bit in my cheek, I have been saying I will retire. Now I think I will. I am tired of training all the time."

Announce dates for Canada-United States' Round of Davis Cup Play

VENUE IS NOT YET SELECTED FOR NET PLAY

—BILL LEWIS—

There was little else but Junior hockey talk on the tongues of local sportsmen yesterday following the convincing triumph of Edmonton Athletic Club over Calgary Jimmies Monday night to take the provincial championship. All winter the fans had hoped the popular young E.A.C. Philip, 19, would play with the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association, Tuesday, March 12. This city has ever had... and the youngsters didn't disappoint. Now fans will be pulling for them to go further along the titular road and will give them plenty of encouragement when they open Trail in the first round of the Dominion playoffs here Saturday night.

The win of E.A.C. and defeat of Jimmies reminded your agent of an argument he once had back about junior hockey coaches. One party was of the opinion that Al Ritchie, the great E.A.C. mentor, had picked the best players and the best teams, while another favored Eddie Poulin, who picked the very best players and the best teams, and again agreed to so many championships.

There can be little doubt as to the ability of both these men. Players from their teams have won out of the west to shine on many a major league stage. If I were giving the verdict, though, I think the nod would go to the fiery little coachman, Poulin. But that's just one man's opinion... Poulin would almost entirely win the grown-up talk. He took the cream of Calgary youngsters, polished them up and welded them into a team that they were important. Some of the most notable performers who went on to star in the national league were his teams: Herbie Lewis, Vic Ripley, Paul Thompson, Irving Frew and many others. Ritchie, likewise, has groomed many present pros and won as many, or more, titles with his teams than Poulin. But the slim Regina, master-minded man, many players from outside entered on his clubs. I would not say that Poulin is better than the Regina, master-minded man, many players from outside entered on his clubs. I would not say that Poulin is better than the Regina, master-minded man, many players from outside entered on his clubs.

But when you're handing out credit to coaches, you can't ever let the E.A.C. out of your eye. A search across the country won't reveal a smarter drilled squad than his junior squad. He plays a smart, systematic passing game and this is particularly pronounced in the spot where it is most dangerous, in the opponent's blue line. No Edmonton team in the memory of this recorder has played so smoothly or systematically as this Blue and Gold machine, which is a tribute in itself to Carigan.

BOSTON, March 7.—Boston Bruins Tuesday night wrote the last chapter of their 1933-34 National Hockey League experience with Toronto Maple Leafs by overwhelming the Canadian division leaders 7-2 before 12,000, the largest crowd the Boston Garden ever saw.
